The absurdity of the attempts to breakup the United Kingdom into weak, vulnerable 'statelets'.

Harmless buffoon or dangerous 'One Worlder?'

Boris Johnson appears to be a bumbling, amiable buffoon but is this just a cover for the real BoJo? The above picture shows BoJo as a relaxed jester entertaining Rouhani. The media and politicians make out that Rouhani is a grim faced enemy of the West! What was BoJo up to?

In an earlier edition of Flame we showed that BoJo had picked, either fully foreign persons, or a person of mixed race for his principle ministers. Was he unable to get senior British Tories to join his government? His action was an insult to the British people. We note that his Home Secretary, an Asian, seems to be encouraging the 'immigrant' invasion cross channel. Why? Again the Chancellor, (Sunak) is printing money in a scandalous manner that is bound to damage the value of the pound.

BoJo's paternal grandfather was a Moslem in the then Turkish government named Ali Kemal Bey and he has on his mother's side a Jewish great grandmother. It was BoJo's father that changed the family name to Johnson. So how does a mixed race person born in New York get selected for a safe Tory seat and then further get elected as Prime Minister?

If BoJo was British he would be outraged by the reckless stupidity of the Scottish National Party asking for independence for Scotland which would severely damaged both Scotland and the remainder of the United Kingdom. As for the Northern Ireland Protocol there can be no words to describe this lunacy. Then BoJo is unlikely to a 'feel' for the UK.

We must call ourselves British? We live in a single country – the United Kingdom

You may regard yourself as English, Scots, Welsh or Irish and instinctively reject “British”. However facts are against us. We may wish to perpetuate our national characteristics and customs but we belong to rapidly diminishing groups – that is groups who can claim to be purely English, Scots, Welsh or Irish. The truth is that the old nations have been merging for at least a century and a half.

Take the writer’s family as being typical – he claims to be pure English and his grandparents were also English. So far so good but he has cousins who are half Welsh and a daughter-in-law who is part Northern Irish. Do they cheer for St George, St David or St Patrick? An extract from a letter printed in a national daily says it all.

Family and the Union.

Sir – Douglas Murray (Comment March 6, 21) represents possibly millions of British families either living in a country of the United Kingdom not of their birth and/or with mixed British or Irish ancestry.

My mother was Welsh, my father English; we have a son-in-law from Northern Ireland and we currently live in Scotland. Not surprisingly, I love all parts and peoples of the United Kingdom and identify only as British. Scotland’s independence will leave me and many others, feeling stateless.

Of course, one can look further back than a century and a half and find that the English are a mixture of Celt, Saxon and Danish Viking – as re East coast Scots, Again Irish are a mixture of Celt and Norwegian Viking. At first we might have perhaps imagined that these were entirely separate peoples but we are definitely all Northern European.

Looking back over the centuries there came the Romans and their auxiliaries who mixed with the indigenous celtic peoples. Were these celts homogeneous? Probably not, as they spoke different languages. Welsh and Irish are both celtic languages but have different vocabularies. Moving on in time, England and Eastern Scotland had the invasion of the Saxons and the entire British Isles was invaded by Danes and Vikings.

In more recent times, from early 19th century, there was a large number of Irish coming to England particularly for work in the mills and the building of the canals (‘the navigators = navies’).

Again there was a movement of Irish to England during the famine and yet again a large movement as people left Ireland due to the civil war.

It is estimated that at least 2 million Irish are settled in the UK, many still with relatives in the Republic.

Nothing said in this article should imply rapid change, or that celebration of the individual nations should be discouraged. Eisteddfods still to be enjoyed and the singing of 'Men of Harlech'.

This article ignores the elephant in the room.

Defence of the Nation.

Some basic facts and figures: (These figures vary according to source.)

	England	Scotland	Wales	N Ireland	ROI
Area sq miles	51,270	30,414	8,005	5,236	27,133
Population, Millions	66.0	5.4	3.1	1.9	5.0

The most important function of the State is the defence of its land and peoples. The defence of the British Isles is virtually entirely up to the United Kingdom as the Republic of Ireland has effectively only a lightly armed army, no air force and a miniscule navy.

The UK military is spread out according to the strategic requirement to defend the whole of the United Kingdom and possibly to be able to come to the rescue of the Republic if it were attacked. In other words it is not disposed according to density of population. In particular, this means that Scotland, if taken as a separate unit, receives a very considerable benefit. Two major examples are: the siting, in the far north at Lossiemouth, of 4 Typhoon squadrons (Approximately half of the UK fleet) and the nuclear submarines at Faslane on the Clyde.

An independent Scotland could never afford to purchase and maintain these very expensive aeroplanes together with their ground crews and auxiliary facilities Neither could it build and maintain nuclear weapons.

In effect, an independent Scotland would leave Scotland effectively defenceless and be another large area of the British Isles that would be an open invitation to aggressors.

Taxation.

A further matter is that of subsidy. All the mini nations are subsidised by mainly the SE of England, for example, Scots receive, as a generalisation, £2,500 more benefit from general taxation than they pay. Wales and N.Ireland likewise are subsidised. Independent 'statelets' would lose these subsidies and presumably take on their share of the National Debt?

Chairman's Report

Tony Martin

The Government and Official Opposition have used the Covid Pandemic to bring in restrictions that have seriously damaged what we had left of our civil liberties. Early last year a video was circulated online and in the media of a man in China being beaten by the police for refusing to wear a face mask, less than a year later and it had become common place here.

For over a year the Government have been dictating who you can meet with, how long you can exercise for and even banned grandparents from hugging their grandchildren. Pubs and restaurants have been forced to close for months at a time, while at the same time the Government and Opposition have been flouting the rules and very little has been done to actually stop the spread of the virus, such as closing the borders, cleaning the trains and stations, and stopping people from spitting.

The Black Lives Matter ideology is being forced on the Western World along with the ridiculous claim the White People somehow have 'White Privilege'. The current round of BLM came about after the death of George Floyd a black career criminal who was resisting arrest in America, while high on drugs. A US police officer has now been convicted of Floyd's 'Murder' with several prominent black activists claiming that 'he would not have been convicted if it weren't for the mass protests and destruction of the BLM movement'.

The BLM riots in the UK saw war memorials including the Cenotaph being vandalised and when a man allegedly shouted "FK Black Lives Matter" it was almost universally accepted by the police and the media that the rioters had a right to try to murder him. When he was eventually carried to safety by men dressed like paramilitaries, who later claimed they only did it to stop the would be murderers from getting into trouble, they were somehow showing him more compassion than he deserved.

Millionaire footballers including the England Team have been taking a knee to push the BLM agenda, while at the same time white school children are in classes where they are massively outnumbered by children of replacement populations and are being taught that 'they have an unfair advantage over the other children due to the colour of their skin'. Many of the non-white children are already being taught at home to hate White People so for schools and negative role models such as footballers to push this sickening agenda must create a dangerous environment for British children, many of whom have probably been brainwashed into believing that they are guilty of the alleged crimes of their ancestors.

Soon, we at the National Front will be holding some flash demonstrations against White Replacement, Foreign Aid, the erosion of free speech and against the LGBTQ+ Agenda. We also look forward to holding meetings again.

Meet the Chairman online with Zoom.

We have been having regular Zoom meetings online (currently the last Sunday of each month at 11am). Go to natfront.info/nftv/ for more details). Due to Covid Regulations we have not been able to hold meetings for some time, this, we hope, will soon change so that we will be able to hold meetings and incidentally be able to sell our papers and merchandise.

Don't Expect The EU To Comply With Its Own Treaties

by Andrew Brons former nationalist MEP

When David Cameron was followed by Theresa May, the process of Britain withdrawing from the EU started - we were told. The EU told us, quite unambiguously, that we and they would need to decide the exit procedure before we could move on to discuss what our future relationship with the EU would be. The EU stated that as though it were set in stone. The order of negotiations was not negotiable. Theresa May accepted it and so did her colleagues - Leavers and Remainers alike. Boris Johnson did not object to it. Even the arch Euro-sceptics in the European Reform Group seemed to accept it. At least, that was not a point on which they criticised the Government

The procedure for withdrawal was agreed by Theresa May and then later by her successor, Boris Johnson. This included the special status of Northern Ireland as part of the Single Market and restrictions on trade between Great Britain (England, Scotland and Wales) and Northern Ireland. This was not something that an allegedly Unionist party would be expected to accept. The British Government has taken steps to rectify this with its Internal Market Bill but that has brought accusations of committing a breach of the Withdrawal Agreement. It also included the agreement to pay the enormous sum of £39,000 million to the EU, as a sort of golden good-bye. Indeed Boris signed Withdrawal agreement himself, whatever his doubts might have been.

Only then did the British Government and the EU proceed to discuss what if any trade agreement we might decide. At the time of writing this, we are now just a month away from the end of the transition period and we are still talking! By the time this article is printed, the transition period will have ended and we shall either have no deal at all or one that we have had to make damaging concessions to achieve. However, we shall still have to pay the enormous sum contained in the Withdrawal Agreement.

What nobody in Government or Opposition has pointed out is that the European Union misrepresented the wording of Article 50 of the Lisbon Treaty, governing the procedure for a country to end its membership of the European Union.

Article 50 states: "the Union shall negotiate and conclude an agreement with that State, setting out the arrangements for its withdrawal taking account of the framework for its future relationship with the Union."

The agreement between the EU and the UK can only take account of the framework for its future relationship with the Union, if the framework of its future relationship with the Union has already been decided. In other words, Article 50 is stating quite clearly and unambiguously that the framework for the future relationship of the withdrawing state with the EU shall precede negotiations for its withdrawal. We and the EU should have discussed possible trade deals before we discussed the arrangements for our withdrawal, including the payment of any money at all to the EU.

THE GREAT RESET COMMUNISM THROUGH THE BACK DOOR

We hated Jeremy Corbyn because we hate Communism, most non-political thinkers could never imagine that a Tory Government could introduce Communism by the back door.

Conservatives traditionally have been about free enterprise, Capitalism and of course the meaning of the word is 'to Conserve'.

When you look at our towns & cities across our beloved country you will see that 'Conserve' is something that has not been done, in fact quite the opposite.

Of course, things move forward with technology but the social fabric and racial demography should stay the same. For example, in 1945, at the end of World War 2 when, although we suffered large losses, the racial makeup of our country was as near to 100% white indigenous as possible.

Successive Labour & Conservative Governments have destroyed our beautiful country; they have made it totally unrecognisable from what it was in 1945.

The British people have never been asked if they want continued mass immigration but by placing their cross on a ballot paper next to Conservative, Labour or Liberal you have actually given them the mandate to continue with the programme, because this continued mass immigration has not just happened by chance or sheer incompetence, it has been planned by the Elite over decades.

Can you imagine the sheer betrayal that those who fought in 2 pointless wars must feel when these wars were used as an excuse to flood our country with every creed & colour from across the globe; the sheer enormity of it all is something non-political thinkers could never take in.

Every crime against the indigenous people of this land by foreigners is firmly in the hands of every single government since 1945.

Crimes like mass grooming, rape, & mugging were virtually unheard of before 1945 and if there was a murder the whole country was in shock.

Nowadays every one of these crimes happen daily. Over 100,000 white British girls groomed and raped by Pakistani grooming gangs, how much shock did it really create? Well nowhere near enough because the British people never took to the streets in numbers that could have really solved the problem and because of this it continues today.

18 months ago I and others read about a plan by the WEF (World Economic Forum) called the Great Reset, a plan engineered by Klaus Schwab, a German Jew. As Schwab said back in March of 2020 "post Covid our world can never be the same again". What a bold Statement to make especially at a time before the virus had supposedly killed millions worldwide.

Whether Covid 19 originated from a laboratory in Wuhan, or not, its timing certainly complemented the World Economic Forum's plans.

The Great Reset has taken decades of careful planning, part of the planning was to make sure that World leaders were put into place that supported the plan.

In Great Britain the Referendum was their perfect opportunity. Boris Johnson has been writing and talking about world depopulation for years and whose father has actually written a book on the subject supposedly supported Britain leaving the European Union, he championed the cause and Britain voted Leave.

I voted Leave; I have been campaigning for 3 decades for Britain to get the hell out of that corrupt entity. My Brexit though would have been a No Deal Brexit, they need Britain and its money more than we need them.

I have though always been in favour of a union between our European brethren based on racial & cultural lines, a Union that would support our preservation and European heritage.

The EU was of course the very opposite to that and has been part of the plan that I mentioned earlier to flood Britain and Europe with those from non white countries and the third world.

So Communism through the back door, now that Boris has secured his position it's all systems go, by way of deception and a global pandemic the ushering in of the Great Reset begins. The clues are everywhere if only you care to look.

So the Great Reset is in essence Communism, it is about control, it is about the suppression of dissent, the dependency on government, the introduction of digital IDs, a cashless society with electronic money and a universal basic income, the control of movement and of course it is about creating fear where they will use Covid and it's supposed variants to keep locking you down. It is also about the complete transformation of the world economy.

The World Economic Forums motto is "You will own nothing but you will be happy".

I cannot believe that the EU was unaware of its misrepresentation of Article 50. However, it had everything to gain (agreements for the UK to pay vast sums to the EU) from that misrepresentation. If the procedure in Article 50 had been followed, the EU would have had to have agreed with the UK on future trade and other relations, before any promise of payment to the EU was made.

It is more difficult to know why nobody among the British Government and its civil servants was aware of this clear disregard of the Lisbon Treaty or indeed of its wording. It has been referred to in two separate letters to the Financial Times from distinguished academics, one of which was published on 4th May 2017. I cannot believe that nobody in Government or Opposition or among civil servants in the appropriate departments, saw either letter.

The politicians were either die-hard Remainers or incapable of reading or too lazy to read clear English in the official translation. The other explanation is that even the apparently committed Leavers were really covert Remainers. The civil servants were clearly Remainers who were supportive of any ruse used by the EU to perpetuate EU control over the United Kingdom in whole or in part.

Even at this late stage, the British Government could use the EU's misrepresentation to declare the Withdrawal Agreement to be invalid, because the Government's agreement to it was secured by an EU lie about the meaning of Article 50.

OUR LEADING POLICIES

"The citizen owes duty to the Nation."

One Parliament for the United Kingdom

The United Kingdom is England, Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland: an independent, sovereign country. Members of Parliament to follow the wishes of their constituents, not a party leader or whip: MPs to be Representatives not Delegates.

Repatriation of all foreigners

Foreigners that call themselves "immigrants" shall be repatriated to their homelands. For the normal, law-abiding "immigrant", ample time will be allowed for them to settle their affairs and leave the country – 'Humane Repatriation'. Students and key foreign workers will require visas.

Promotion of marriage with the expectation of a family of 3 children

Achieved by removing the current heavy taxation on the young so that they are able to afford housing and children. The tax system will be altered so that the heavy burden on the young will be moved to the general population.

Abolition of the National debt

Borrowing money, at interest, to bribe voters shall be abolished. No longer will the elderly be able to leave a vast and damaging debt to the young.

WITHOUT CHILDREN OUR NATION IS DYING!

Lapsed membership.

According to Party rules if a subscription is not renewed after 31st March the membership is deemed to have lapsed. It is disheartening to see someone give up membership, as it is hard to believe that they have had a complete change of mind and now, for example, want immigration, the EU and so on. Rather, we believe, it is the realisation that it is an enormous task to right the wrongs against our nation – and thence not worth trying!

However, it is essential to build a network of branches so that we can campaign and win seats in Parliament. Numbers count, so that even being a passive member, means that you are doing your bit. PLEASE RENEW.

DEFEND YOUR FAMILY WITH NATIONAL FRONT

I wish to become a member/renew my membership of the National Front for 2021. Membership of the National Front for 2021 costs just £10 for one year.

Membership starts when a card is issued and runs until 31st December 2021 (join after 1st October 2020 and your membership extends for 2021). If you are renewing your membership you will keep your party card and membership number.

Members under the age of 25 also qualify for free membership of the Young National Front.
